PRICE THREE CENTS

McDowell Memorial Program Rendered

Special Music at Women's Community Club

The meeting of the Community Club on Tuesday of this week was exceptionally enjoyable and interesting.

During the business portion of the meeting Mrs. Ross announced that the Club had presented a pair of beautiful candlesticks to the National Federation House. A letter of appreciation was read by the Secretary, stating that the candlesticks have been placed in the State President's room.

Members of the Club were given copies of the prize peace plan, and urged to read it thoughtfully and send a vote of approval or disapproval to the Federation.

The Secretary read an appeal from the Department of Justice for the adoption of a resolution urging the building of a Reformatory for women federal prisoners, the establishment of an industrial farm for young men of first offense, and adoption of means to provide employment for all federal prisoners.

As the amount pledged for the support for one year of an orphan in the Near East had not been fully raised, the Club voted to continue the collections at the meetings until the sum required is collected.

The business meeting was followed by a musical program under the supervision of Mrs. Trotter, chairman of Music. The Club Chorus, directed by Mr. Spratt, and ably accompanied by Mrs. Mueller, sang "Before the Day-break," "Thy Beaming Eyes," "Summer Wind," "Hush, Hush," and "Old Uncle Ned." Many of the selections were written by Edward McDowell, one of the foremost of American composers and pianists.

Mrs. Donnelly read a short review of the life of McDowell.

Mr. Raymond Vetter, accompanied by his sister, Miss Evelyn Vetter, played several selections on the violin from McDowell and Kreisler. He stilled the persistent applause with a beautiful rendition of "The Old Re-frain."

Tea was served during the social hour by Mrs. Burrell and her aids.

Prominent Club Woman Will Give Radio Talks to Women

Mrs. T. Duncan Just, of Ambler, Pa., will on Monday, February 4th, at 3 o'clock, give the first of a series of radio talks from Station WIP (Gimbel Bros.). Mrs. Just is Legislative Chairman of the Southeastern District of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, comprising the clubs of eleven counties, including Philadelphia, having a club membership of nearly 30,000 women; Chairman of Legislation Wisconsin Grange, Montgomery County; a member of the Executive Board of the Monday Conference and Legislative Chairman of the Federated Women's Clubs of Montgomery County.

The purpose of these talks is to take advantage of the radio in bringing to the ears of this great number of interested women current subjects of a legislative nature, prepared and presented in a lucid manner, so that women can intelligently determine upon such subjects when presented for their action.

The talks will be continued for an indefinite period on the first and third Mondays of each month, at 3 o'clock, and will number among the subjects, first, the Mellon Tax Bill, and thereafter the Constitutional Convention, the Immigration Bill, etc.

Mrs. Just has for many years been a student of political science as practiced in our State Legislatures and National Congress, and is considered an authority on parliamentary procedure, and is at present parliamentarian of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs.

TO TEST ENGINE

Narberth's brand-new pumping engine arrived last Saturday, and has already been called into service on several minor blazes. It is a big American, La France pumper, and is a considerable addition to Narberth's already efficient fire-fighting organization.

A test of the new engine will be made today. The test will be conducted at Penn Treaty Park, at the foot of Girard avenue, Philadelphia, between the hours of 12:00 and 4:00. This is the official test of the Fire Underwriters, and residents of Narberth interested in the new equipment are invited to watch the test.

Narberth Victors in First Half

"B" Basketball Team Tops Church League

Congratulations are in order for the Narberth "B" team for their remarkable achievement of ousting the other contenders for the first half title of the Overbrook League. The locals accomplished this last week when they travelled to 63rd and Girard Avenue and defeated Cooper M. E. in their own bailiwick.

It was the deciding game of the first half and the Boroughites had to travel at a pace to top the Cooper boys and held the one-game lead over the fast Wharton M. E. Club.

Captain Lou Ricklin and his mates seemed to have a hard time getting a start due to adverse conditions on the Cooper floor which harbors 6 large pillars in the center of the floor. Cooper M. E. got away to a 5 point lead before Clarence Humphries batted in a field goal after a stiff scrimmage under Narberth's basket. The locals soon found their bearings and on field goals by Pete Yocum and Lou Ricklin, Narberth ended the first half with a lead of 6 points, 12-6.

Starting the second half the Cooper boys crawled to within 3 points of Narberth (18-15), but with the title at stake, Clarence Humphries dropped in 3 field goals in quick succession and "Lou" Ricklin got away from his man for 2 more, which sewed up the argument for Narberth.

Clarence Humphries and Millard Dickie are due a vote of thanks for their wonderful work. Thanks had five field goals and one foul goal for a total of 11 points. While Millard got only 1 field goal and 3 fouls, he was the proverbial flash on the floor, and his dribbling and guarding were the best seen among the "B" clubs this season.

Narberth "A" team lost a chance to finish in second place when the Cooper "A" Team defeated them 24-15. John Dickie and Fred Harseh were the only first team men available, as injuries and sickness have kept the "A" team in the rut.

Next Friday the Third Christian team, champions of the first half, come to Narberth.

AN ENCOURAGING REHEARSAL

Monday night, January 21st, deserves to be written in red letters in the history of the Choral Society. With the thermometer registering its lowest for the year, more than seventy-five per cent. of the members turned out for the third rehearsal of the season. It was a singular tribute to Mr. Bentz and the type of music he has selected.

New members are still coming and with the closing of the list next Monday night it is expected that there will be approximately fifty names on the roll—and practically all of them from Narberth. This showing has been a source of gratification to the officers and board of directors of the society, because it is an endorsement of the policies outlined last fall.

With the active membership really active, the opportunity is soon to be extended to the friends and supporters of the organization to subscribe to the associate and sustaining memberships. As in the past, this will assure each member an allotment of tickets, which will be more liberal this year because there will be no public sale. Checks may be made payable to Wallis Bollenu, Treasurer, and addressed to 210 Wayne Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hood, of Conway avenue, entertained at "Mah Jong" Tuesday evening. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maguire, Jr., the Misses May and Ethel Banfield, Anna Sell, Sheila Foster, Eleanor Burgess and Edythe Maguire.

NEW SCOUTMASTER ON JOB

Bill Durbin took active charge of the Narberth Troop of Boy Scouts at the troop meeting last week. The new Scoutmaster was appointed by the Troop Committee to succeed Fred C. Patten, who recently resigned the work.

The first duty of the new organization was a general clean-up at Headquarters, on Elmwood avenue, near the station. Most of the boys were on duty Saturday and gave the building a much needed cleaning out, and made a number of repairs to furniture, etc.

The troop feels highly indebted to Mr. Leon Eichengren, who made arrangements with the Counties Gas and Electric Company, whereby the troop has secured the loan of a gas heater. This is practically a necessity if the headquarters building is to be used as a meeting place this winter. "For this relief much thanks," say the boys.

One of the needs of the troop at present is an additional supply of benches or camp chairs. The residents of Narberth interested in the work of the Scouts are asked to co-operate by donating anything in this line they may have.

If you can help out in this respect, a phone call to Narberth 1613 M will be appreciated.

TALK ON WELFARE

An unusually interesting meeting of the Juniors was held Thursday evening, January 17th, at the home of Miss Dorothy Wilson. Miss Elder, of the Visiting Nurse Committee, gave a most entertaining talk on the welfare activities and needs of the Main Line section. The speaker laid stress on the need for physical as well as financial aid. The girls have therefore determined to devote an evening to the making of bandages and such useful articles which will be turned over to the Visiting Nurses' Association for proper distribution.

At the same time it was decided to raise money for charitable purposes, and for this reason a card party has been planned for Saturday afternoon, February 16th, in the Community Club Room. The hostesses for the evening were the Misses Marion Graham, Marion Graf-fon, Elizabeth Maguire and Mrs. Eleanor Thorn.

We were also pleased to have with us as guest Mrs. Ross, President of the Community Club. Mrs. Ross has always shown a deep interest in the affairs of the Junior Section.

ANNIVERSARY CONCERT

A crowded house greeted the Main Line Orchestra Sunday afternoon at the Ardmore Theatre when it gave the second concert of the season. The concert also marked the first anniversary of this very unusual amateur organization of symphony players, and the enthusiastic applause of the select audience evidenced a marked appreciation of the great success of the conductor, Adolph Vogel, of the Philadelphia Orchestra, as well as of the results achieved by the hard work and study of the musicians themselves.

The orchestral feature of the program was the Schubert Symphony B Minor "Unfinished." This classic work was rendered in a most satisfactory manner from every standpoint, the splendid tonal qualities and all the shadings and color which are so possible in it being brought forth with quite professional skill.

The different choirs of the Orchestra, which now totals 50 members, have shown vast improvement with each concert. The wind sections are especially good and the strings show a marked increase in flexibility and sonority of tone.

The program, chosen with good taste by Conductor Vogel, was well balanced, both for the audience and with regard to the technical ability of the orchestra. The Prelude of Rachmaninoff's and "The Last Spring" by Grieg, were especially well played. Conductor Vogel was accorded an ovation at the close of the concert, which he shared with and gracefully passed along to the Orchestra.

The soloist was Miss Sallie Caskin, daughter of Mrs. Langdon Caskin, of Overbrook, a talented young pianist just entering her teens. Miss Caskin's work proved to the audience that she possesses a very remarkable ability by the skill and musical understanding with which she rendered Haydn's D minor sonata and two selections from Chopin. Her numbers were a welcome addition to Mr. Vogel's program.

Mrs. E. Keith Monnington, of Elmwood avenue, entertained at luncheon and cards on Thursday.

The FIRESIDE

Mr. William D. Smedley, of Narberth, and Mr. Charles Powell, of Ardmore, left on Thursday by boat for Miami, Florida.

Mrs. W. C. Claghorn, of Chestnut avenue, entertained at luncheon and cards Saturday Mrs. Horace Polhemus, Mrs. Andrew Green and Mrs. Hugh Speed.

Mr. John Maguire has written home from Pittsburgh, stating that he just returned from a two-weeks' survey trip in Mifflin, being where the thermometer registered 5 degrees below zero.

Mrs. Samuel E. Jeffers entertained her Bridge club with a luncheon last Monday. Those present were Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Mrs. L. Shenaman, Mrs. E. H. Cockrill, Mrs. G. W. Orth, Mrs. E. S. Munroe, Mrs. Michener, Mrs. J. E. England, Mrs. Chappatte, Mrs. H. F. Stevens, Mrs. J. Miller, and Mrs. J. B. Smith.

Little Miss Helen Selene Mellor entertained at her third birthday party, Wednesday, January 16, Betty Louise Chaypoole, Dickie Bergstresser, Emily and Donald Edgerton, James Conway, Eleanor Sharp, Rose Emily Hopkins, Eileen and Katharine Bailey, Buddie Hopkins, Emily Scott, Barnard and Rosalind Mellor and Edward Baker, Jr., of Philadelphia.

Mr. Willard H. Hunt, of Price Avenue, left Sunday, January 20th, for Jacksonville, Florida. He will spend six weeks in touring places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith E. Monnington, of Elmwood avenue, entertained at dinner last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Newlin Wismer, Mr. and Mrs. August M. Dinkler and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fenno.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Roberts, of Newtown Square, announce the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor, to Mr. Lester E. Peters, of 232 Woodbine avenue, Narberth, Pa.

Mr. J. Wallace Goodwin, of Elmwood avenue, who motored to Buffalo, N. Y., last week, encountered severe cold weather between 10 and 18 degrees below zero.

Miss Lillian Compton, of Woodside avenue, entertained at cards last Saturday night. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served.

Ted Atkins, III, spent the week-end in Glenside, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. F. Yowell are planning a motor trip to Harrisburg and Summerdale, over the week-end, a la Ford, 1918.

Walter Miesen and Ernest Jenkins have left for Florida, where they will spend several weeks. They expect to go to Cuba before their return.

Mrs. J. F. Donnelly, of the Avon Apartments, left on Wednesday for Ashville, N. C., where she will join Mr. Donnelly for a week's visit.

Mrs. Wm. Bartlett, of Elmwood avenue, entertained a number of her friends with a luncheon on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hill, of Iona avenue, entertained at cards Monday evening. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. James R. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maguire, Jr., of Narberth, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wipf, of Audubon, N. J.

CARD PARTY

The card party given by the Auxiliary of the Tennis Association had a fair attendance of Narberth people. The working committee was under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Fenno, chairman, and consisted of the following members: Mrs. W. D. R. Evans, Mrs. John B. Wine, Mrs. Otto V. Kruse, Mrs. Jesse Harris, Mrs. Arthur C. Staples, Mrs. James Darville, Mrs. W. R. D. Hall, Mrs. Horace Smedley, assisted in the evening by Mrs. Russell Sharp, Mrs. Robert Cameron, Mrs. Roy Williams, Mrs. Carl DeHaven Grace, Mrs. Jean Allen.

Would Swap Pupils with Narberth

L. M. Junior High School Soon to Open

An arrangement with Narberth for an exchange of elementary pupils is sought by Superintendent S. E. Downs, of the Lower Merion Schools.

"The addition of sixty houses at Bala, the opening of two large tracts for extra building at Cynwyd and the constant erection of homes in the Merion district, all point to the absolute necessity of a re-assignment of groups and the completion of the first units of the Merion school prior to the opening in the fall of 1925."

Such was the statement of Supt. S. E. Downs in his report to the Township Commissioners this week. Continuing, he said, "By that time we should have a building containing eight class rooms, a gymnasium, lunch room, the necessary offices, toilets, etc. This would make possible a re-division so as to transfer more children to Cynwyd and the re-distribution of as many as necessary from the region adjoining Narberth to the new school, so as to complete the desired enrollment. It may also be feasible to make an arrangement with Narberth, by which the Narberth schools will take some children and in exchange permit us to take children from our Brookhurst avenue section and in exchange permit us to take an equal number of those located in South Narberth. Such an arrangement (when the new building is completed in Merion) would greatly lessen the transportation problem and make possible warm lunches at home for a large group of children.

The new Junior High School at Ardmore which is now nearing completion will be formally opened on Monday, Feb. 4.

Supt. S. E. Downs has the following to say in his report of school work turned in last week:

"Progress is being made rapidly at this time on the building. The addition to the garage has been completed and the oil storage tank has been erected. The partitions are now being installed in the shop building and the mastic floor will be completed this week. In the main building all contractors are advancing rapidly except S. Faith, who has charge of the heating and ventilating system. The greater part of the floors have been planed and oiled and we are now ready to start the installation of equipment, practically all of which is in storage, ready for installation. The ladies of the board have been making rapid progress with the model suite. The papering has been completed and they have purchased the greater part of the furnishings. The outside contractors have been compelled, owing to the freezing weather, to discontinue the grading and concrete work and it is probable that this cannot be finished until spring. The building, however, is now sufficiently advanced that I think we are justified in setting a definite date for the opening of the school. I therefore recommend that we transfer the Junior High School to the new building and begin work there Monday morning, February 4, and that all contractors be notified at once that the building must be completed in ample time to make this possible.

"As we will want to dedicate the new building soon after its opening, I suggest that we be authorized to prepare for such dedication on or as near February 12, Lincoln's Birthday, as is feasible, and that a suitable brief programme be planned also for this occasion, together with sufficient notices and invitations to acquaint the entire community with this public meeting."

GUN CLUB TO HOLD SHOOT

The C. C. Pace Rod and Gun Club is now completing arrangements for a shoot which is to be given on its club-house grounds on Wynnewood Avenue, near Narberth, in the early part of February. A number of prizes will be given.

The club holds a number of shoots at stated intervals. Its last affair was given on January 12. At that time sterling trophies were awarded to the leaders in Classes A, B, C and D, and also to the high scorer in 100 targets and to the visiting high scorer. Members who wish to enter the shoot should send their entries to Mr. J. E. Killian, the secretary.

The officers of the Shooting Club are: President, Charles C. Pace; vice-president, N. Howard McNeil; treasurer, Grover Thompson, and secretary, J. E. Killian. Mr. Thompson is a resident of Narberth. All the other officers are from Bala-Cynwyd.

Debate on Bonus in Elm Hall Monday

Adjusted Compensation Will be on the Grill

Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, American Legion, is staging a debate on the subject of the so-called Soldiers' Bonus. The Post officers felt that very few people knew the arguments pro and con except on purely sentimental grounds. In a matter of this kind, sentiment is out of place. Anything involving millions of the people's money should be considered from the standpoint of sound business policy.

Mr. Arthur W. Burns, of Woodside avenue, will take the affirmative of the question, "Shall the World War Veteran Receive Adjusted Compensation?" Mr. Burns will argue from the standpoint of compensation devoid of sentiment, treating the service man as a producing investment commanded by the Government.

Mr. Archibald Webster, a publicist of note, is to take the negative. Your correspondent was unable to reach him before going to press, so we cannot give you the basis of his argument. Doubtless, he will follow in the footsteps of Secretary Mellon, who takes the stand that the taxes cannot be reduced if the "bonus" is paid. Of course we all want the taxes reduced, so it looks as if Mr. Burns will have a busy evening.

An interesting side light on the occasion is that the Merion Post of the American Legion has formally renounced the bonus. This places them alone with the exception of one other Post in New York. We make this statement with our fingers crossed, because we are not sure of its accuracy. This we do know, however, that every national convention of the American Legion has come out for the adjusted compensation. The convention is composed of delegates chosen by Posts the country over and should express the opinion of the majority.

The local Post asks you to come out and hear the real viewpoint of the request for adjusted compensation so that you will not consider the ex-service man as a "Treasury Robber," as he has been styled by lots of gentlemen who have been doing that little thing for many years. They just don't relish competition.

The Deputy District Commander of Pennsylvania will be present and will doubtless be called upon to address the meeting.

The point of the whole matter is, come out and get an earful!

YOUNG PEOPLE AT ARDMORE

Young people of the Main Line are assured of an interesting and profitable evening on Friday, February first. At that time the Main Line Federation of Young People will assemble in the Baptist Church, Cricket Avenue, Ardmore, to hear Professor Rufus Jones speak on "Young People and Religion." Those who have heard Dr. Jones before are sure not to miss this chance to hear him on this particular topic. Others ought to make his acquaintance.

An additional reason for the young people of the Main Line to attend this meeting is that it is the first general meeting of the new Federation. Discussion of the aims of the movement will take place, and the regular representatives will elect their officers. Do not forget the time, Friday evening, February 1st, at 7:30 o'clock, and the place, the First Baptist Church, Cricket Avenue, Ardmore.

OCC BASKETBALL

On Thursday, January 17th, the O.C. Class of the Narberth Presbyterian Church played Ridley Park M. E. Church in the Narberth School gym. The game was a close one, resulting in a score of 15 to 11 favor the OCC Class.

On January 31st, the OCC Class will play the Galoping Basketeers, Tom Martin, George Rose, Hank Smith, Horace Wanamaker, Pete Yocum, Billie Heard.

BOARD TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the board of Directors of the Narberth School District will be held next Monday night, January 28th, at the High School building.

These meetings are open to the public, and any resident interested in school affairs is invited by the Board to attend.

ANOTHER ONE

We are keeping up a pretty consistent average of one bad break a week. Last week's error was at the top of the first column on the first page of the paper.

The Editor's well known artistic writing was responsible, when the printer, setting up the headings, took a wild guess at one of our hieroglyphics. Which, reduced to its essence, means that in the first column of last week's paper had as its sub-head the startling statement that the circulation of the Library had shown a "Big Decrease."

Far from it. The circulation of our local center of learning is jumping ahead faster than the claims of some beet-iron and wine compound. We wrote, or thought we wrote, "increase" with our carefully sharpened blue pencil. Who knows?

This is getting interesting. So long as these slips do not place us open to a libel suit we rather enjoy watching to see what the next one will be.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH THEM?

Our Community Library.
Our Playground.
Our Community Building.
Our Y. M. C. A. money.
Our New Tunnel.
Our Boy Scouts' Building.

The Library is here to stay. It must stay. But the building which it now occupies has been sold, and within a few months our Library will be without a home.

We have a Playground—the ground part. But when will it be equipped for the play part?

A Community Building—of a sort—is provided by the present Y. M. C. A. building. But it has been sold! Where will we commune?

The good people who originally provided the Y. M. C. A. building certainly intended to benefit the younger people of Narberth and it is reasonable to expect that the present directors will see to it that any monies realized from the sale of the building will be wisely expended in the same direction.

It is also reasonable to believe that they will at the same time try to provide, or help the people of Narberth provide, a Community Building as the Y. M. C. A. building has in the past been the nearest approach to a real Community Building that we have had.

Narberth's second greatest improvement will undoubtedly be a new railroad station and the Essex avenue tunnel.

The tunnel suggests the Boy Scout Headquarters at Elmwood avenue, which might make a very desirable sight for a Community Building. A valuable corner which will likely be built on some day. Why not a Community Corner?

Many organizations in our town want a building where large gatherings and smaller meetings can be held. Not an entire building or even a room to be used one or two days a week and kept in expensive idleness for the remainder of the time, but a place suitable for their gatherings, comfortable, convenient and at a reasonable cost of maintenance.

A Community Building seems to be the answer to most of Narberth's community problems. Such a building is a real necessity, and it can be accomplished by a real community spirit, not each one for themselves, but for the best interests of all.

We want a permanent home for our Library.

We want a Playground that can be played on—soon!

We want to get together.

We want to work for what we need.

We want to give to help make our town a better town.

We owe a visible sign of recognition to the 145 men who came back to Narberth from the World War and to the six who did not come back alive.

Narberth's community spirit lives—it may be slumbering—let it awake.
Crank Handle.

SCHOOL NEWS

On Friday, the 18th, some pupils of the ninth grade gave a program. Katherine Adams acted as Mistress of Ceremonies, and announced the poems to be read. The ones chosen represented love, justice, humor, the sea, steeds and war. The poems ran in this order: Lochinvar Dorothy Speck
The Bell of Atri Ruth Caldwell
Ballad of the Oysterman,
Wallace Litchfield

Inchcape Bell Anna Mcracken
How They Brought the Good News from Ghent to Aix Jack Foster
The Yarn of the Navy Bell,
Henry Banks

The poems were appreciated by the other grades of the school.

The girls' basketball team of Narberth is not going to play against any outside teams this year. Only inter-class games will be played. On Monday the Lower Merion girls practiced in the Narberth School gymnasium.

The Grolier Society has distributed among the pupils small cards. If the card is filled out and turned in to the school a little booklet of the "Book of Knowledge" will be received. Although they are only for advertisement, the books are filled with facts that would be a help in class or at home.

On Friday, Jan. 18, a Latin play was given by some pupils of the Ninth Grade. It was given by the "Victories," captained by Ruth Caldwell. The play was coached by Miss Tyson, the Latin teacher. The characters were as follows:

Manlius—girl Dorothy Speck
Sextus—boy Wallace Litchfield
Pullo—servant John Conway
Vindex—sailor Donald Taylor
Manlius—father Robert Harris
Julia—pupil Lois Caldwell
Megister—teacher Ruth Caldwell
Talia—pupil Elizabeth Walls

Because of the sudden cold wave that has suddenly struck Narberth, Mr. Wilson has started an indoor recess. Immediately after lunch the pupils may go to their respective rooms and there enjoy the most longed for period of the day.

On Friday, January 25, 1924, the A section of the sixth grade gave a play. It was carried by members of the "Good Citizen's Club" and is entitled "William Tell."

Characters

Albert George Albert
William Tell Arthur Bailey
Gesler Philip Nickerson

Dear Bill:

I have just finished a very interesting book and, thinking you might like to read it, I am writing to tell you about it. The name of the book is "Kidnapped," and is of olden times in Scotland. I received this book for Christmas and was much satisfied.

The character I like most is "David" who is a young lad about seventeen or eighteen. He is a very tall, strong and hardy lad. He goes through many strange adventures with a friend. When the story started he is on his way to get his fortune. In the end, after being in a fight on the ship where the story gets its name he is hunted by soldiers till he leaves the country and goes to his own country where he procures his fortune.

Your friend,
William Henderson.

Dear Frank:

I took out of the school library a book called "Lincoln's Own Stories." I took the book because I thought there would be war stories in it. The book was of many short stories or incidents of Lincoln's life. I learned many things about the father of the Civil War that I had never known. Lincoln was very shrewd, though most people, if shrewd, are not big hearted like Lincoln. He was very poor and also popular in his early age. During the war he tried many generals before Grant, but I think he would have made a good general himself. His duty at the capital brought him the troubles of war.

Lincoln did not suffer at his death, but had suffered so much for the people that he had a quick death. Even his enemies a month after losing their sons in war against him, mourned over his death. It takes a great and loved man to be mourned by his enemies. His head, character and disposition won him from a shack to a palace of our country.

I will write you soon about my trip. Your chum,
Robert Vallette.

Dear Margaret:

This Christmas I received only one book. Of course I read it right away. The name of this book is "Her Father's Daughter." It is about a story of a doctor's daughter in California. Her sister is not very nice to her and tries to dictate to her. They have no father and mother to tell them what to do so, the girl revolts. Her sister gets angry and goes away, leaving Linda the bulk of the estate. After awhile she finds that home is better after all. She agrees to do just as Linda does. Linda afterwards marries a young man by the name of Peter Morrison.

Linda has brains and knows how to use them. She knows that her sister is taking more than her share of the money and determine to stop it. Just at this juncture Elsen goes away. Meanwhile Linda has been earning more money. She is courageous in more ways than one. She saved a man's life, fought for her rights and united two people. I like her because I think she is a straight-forward American girl.

Your friend,
Virginia Eyre.

Dear Cousin Sam:

I took a book from the Community Library Friday. I have read it before, but it is well worth reading twice. It is "Lorna Doone," by Blackmoor. The title makes it sound like a girl's book, but it isn't. The setting is taken from a wild part of England called Exmoor. The story is told in very simple language.

John Ridd is the main character. He is the son of a simple farmer of Exmoor. The whole parish is in an uproar about the Doones, a family of robbers who have settled in a strongly fortified valley. John's father was killed by these robbers. The book tells how John took revenge on Carver Doone, the man that killed his father. John Ridd had great strength. However he loved peace so much that sometimes people imposed on him. He held the champion wrestling belt against all the country round. These are only a few particulars about the book. If you ever have a chance to read it I advise you to do so.

Your cousin,
Dick Banks.

CARD PARTY

The Community Club Room in the Y. M. C. A. Building will be the scene of the annual card party of the Juniors, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16, at 2:30.

Those of you who remember the delightful time when we gathered on the spacious porches of the Smedley home last spring for just such an affair will not fail to "be among those present." In this case, however, the proceeds, instead of being devoted to the Building Funds, are to be turned over to charity.

The admittance fee is 75 cents, which is an unusually small amount when one considers the handsome prize for each table and the refreshments which will follow play.

The excuse "I do not know how to play Bridge," is no excuse at all, for there will be tables of "500" for any who care to play. It has even been suggested that Mah Jong devotees come and bring their sets. If you wish to make up a table for your friends, notify Miss Margaret Burrell, Merion Avenue, or any Junior, and a table will be reserved for you—no cover charge!

GARDEN NOTES

To kill two birds with one stone is hardly the aim of any gardener if he or she knows how very useful the birds really are in destroying insects in the garden, aside from their cheerful song and presence.

Let us then say "to serve two purposes with one shrub."

In selecting shrubs let us resolve to get our money's worth and have not only flowers in the Spring and green foliage in the Summer, but also have gay foliage in the Fall and fruit and berries to keep the garden living in the Fall and Winter and to feed our friends the birds.

We will then temporarily banish such ordinary shrubs as the Spireas, Weigela, Hydrangeas, Common Purple Lilies and Common Orange Blossoms. The newer and better variety Forsythia Intermedia Spectabilis is permissible, as are the improved Orange Blossoms or Philadelphia varieties Virginal or Magdalene.

The Persian Lilac will give us something better and different as will Rosa Hugonis, treated as a shrub, very early and a pretty yellow.

But for flower, foliage and berries we can choose from the following:

Hawthorn—Scarlet and Fragrant White. Scarlet Fruit.

Bittersweet—Celastrus Scandens. Scarlet Fruit. A native here.

Enonymus Alatus (Burning Bush). Red foliage and fruit.

Lonicera Tatarica Rubra. (Bush Honeysuckle) Pink Flowers and Red Berries.

Symphoricarpos Racemosus—(Snow Berry). Pink Flowers, White Berries. Shade.

Viburnum Opulus—Black Cranberry. White Flowers, Scarlet Fruit.

Siberian Dogwood—Cornus Alba Siberica. White Flowers. Red Branches. Blue Berries. Shade.

Spice Bush—Benzoin Ororiferum. Early Yellow Flowers. Red Berries.

Smooth Sumac—Rhus Glabra. Crimson Fruit and Foliage.

Red Cedars of Junipers (evergreen) are favorites of the birds and make a fine background to plant against.

With berry bearing shrubs planted the next step is to eliminate the cat; we are not planting a bird trap but a bird haven, the birds are beautiful and useful, while the cats are, generally speaking, a damn nuisance.

Now is the time to order Bird Houses—if we want the visitors to build with us this Spring, the houses should be up by March First.

When houses, Bluebird houses and Robin Roosts are the first to consider. Bird baths and Feeding Stations beyond the reach of cats are also essential.

PRESBYTERIANS WIN TWO FROM METHODISTS

The Presbyterian and Methodist teams of the Inter-Church Bowling League met on Monday evening, Jan. 21st, and the former team added two games to their won column. The Presbyterians, after winning the first game, slumped badly in the second, but pulled themselves together and won the third. Bailey, of the Methodist team, made the highest individual score of the evening, 190 points, in the second game.

LIFE OF CLEVELAND

New Two-Volumed Biography on Library Shelves

Robert McElroy Edwards, Professor of American History at Princeton, is the author of a new and detailed biography of President Grover Cleveland which has just come from the presses of Harper and Brothers and is now available at the Community Library. This biography, in two volumes, will give to the generation which has grown to maturity since Cleveland's time, a better realization of the importance of his two administrations and of the strength of his character in the service of the people. It is written in a popular style and really could not be called a scholarly work because it does not go into the political and economic aspects of Cleveland's period with complete thoroughness of investigation and at that point this biography may be disappointing to older people whose personal memories run back to the Cleveland era.

Many men, who occupy a position of great prominence during their lifetimes, sink into rapid and almost complete obscurity soon after their deaths, but occasionally there are men who in career and character impress posterity more than their contemporaries. This is the case of Grover Cleveland, whose reputation has been steadily increasing since the time of his death and who now is regarded by many as being the ablest President from Lincoln to Roosevelt. It is almost possible to determine the real greatness of American Presidents merely by ascertaining those who were most abused and vilified by their contemporaries because all of them, who now stand out prominently as great men and who are permanently cherished in the memories of the nation, were the objects of almost unendurable scorn and of bitter attacks which knew no bounds of decency. This was true of Washington, Lincoln, of Cleveland and, in our own time, of Wilson.

Grover Cleveland holds the unique place in the annals of the American presidency in having been the only President who, defeated at the end of one administration, was re-elected four years later. But at the close of his second administration in 1896, the Democratic party, which he had twice led to victory, repudiated his administration at their annual convention and greeted any mention of his name with vociferous scorn. This repudiation by his own party so impressed Cleveland's mind that when he retired from the Presidency on March 4, 1897, he was filled with sorrowful belief that in spite of his earnest efforts, his administrations had been failures and that the American people had weighed him in the balance and found him wanting. He was so much impressed by this belief that just before leaving the White House he instructed the servants to remove the painted portrait of himself to the attic where he expected it would remain permanently.

It is impossible, within the limits of this review, to narrate the incidents which revealed Cleveland's unusual courage and independence of action whereby he preserved the gold money standard for the country and prevented what would have amounted to repudiation of national debts. Professor McElroy's two volumes give a wonderful impression of an honest and courageous man who devoted all of his strength of character and will-power and an unusual amount of laborious work to the service of the people without regard to party, race or creed. The reader is glad to find that during the last ten years of Cleveland's life he was able himself to observe many remarkable indications of the great respect and regard in which he was held throughout the nation, and during these later years of his life the cloud of despondency and sense of failure were completely removed.

If Professor McElroy has erred at any point in this biography, it is by including too many lengthy quotations from Cleveland's speeches and letters. Cleveland was a laborious writer and the ordinary reader is forced either to skip entirely or to wade through many pages of his letters which are valuable only as showing his character. This object could undoubtedly have been accomplished in much less space.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

The Community Library has added to its shelves recently some interesting new volumes, among which are two very notable biographies, "Grover Cleveland," by Robert McElroy, and "Adventures in Journalism," by Sir Philip Gibbs. Mrs. Harriman's "From Pinnafors to Politics," is very readable autobiography, as is also Clare Sheridan's "My American Diary." An unusual opportunity brought this latter book to the Library at reduced price, hence its late appearance. Several new books of fiction and a group of specially attractive children's books complete the list of Library purchases for January.

Following is the list of new books:

LOWER MERION NOTES

Loss of Savill to Team is Felt

One game won and one lost was the record of the Lower Merion High basketball team for the week-end. Darby High was played Friday afternoon last and was downed by a 19-18 count, and Chester was given a whirl, and also a victory, on Tuesday afternoon of this week; score, 21-13.

In the Darby game, which incidentally was played at Darby, the Forstburg passers proceeded to provide their usual hair-raising variety of basketball game, with the result that a "thrilling" time was had by all. The score saw-sawed, as usual, throughout the game, and when the final whistle blew only one point separated the Maroon and White basketballers from their opponents. The same margin, one-pointed, separated the two teams at the end of the first half, for the score then was 9-8 in favor of Lower Merion. At no time did either team get a commanding lead.

The loss of Bob Savill, who had been playing a brilliant game at center for the Lower Merion-ites, through scholastic ineligibility, was expected to cause a decided slump in the game of Coach Forstburg's proteges, but his absence fortunately seemed to have no effect in the Darby contest. But in the Chester game at the High School at Ardmore on Tuesday it was different.

Perhaps it was not the absence of Savill, but whatever it was the team certainly played as if it had never been together before. As a result, Chester had a picnic of it to the tune of 21-13, and at no time was it in any danger. The first half ended with the tally 7-4 in favor of the visitors.

Outburst Features

The feature of both games was the playing of John Outburst, who took the place at center vacated by Savill. He led in the scoring in the Darby game with three field goals, and in the Chester game he made three two-pointers.

The line-up for both frays, with the exception of the substitution of Outburst at center, was the same as has played in all the other games. It follows:

Varsity

Frank Hutchinson—Forward
John Giffillan—Forward
John Outburst—Center
Paul Scull—Guard

David Bevan (Capt.)—Guard

Second Team Wins

The second basketball team played the Chester High seconds during the varsity game on Tuesday. It won by 11-9 score. Following was the Lower

Merion line-up:

Seconds

John Faulk—Forward
Ronald Ruddick—Forward
Charles Peterson—Center
Edward Lockwood—Guard
Walton Foote—Guard

Varsity Record

Following is the varsity basketball team's record to date, with dates in all the facts:

Jan. 4—Lower Merion, 3; Jenkintown, 24.
Jan. 8—Lower Merion, 14; Media, 16.
Jan. 11—Lower Merion, 15; Upper Darby, 12.

Jan. 15—Lower Merion, 24; Lansdowne, 22.
Jan. 18—Lower Merion, 19; Darby, 18.
Jan. 22—Lower Merion, 13; Chester, 21.

Totals—Lower Merion, 78; opponents, 113.

It will be noted from the foregoing that Lower Merion has broken even on the number of games, having won three and lost three; yet its opponents have distinctly outscored it, making a total of 35 more points.

Radnor Next

The next basketball game will be a contest with Radnor, on Tuesday, January 29, which will also be played at home, and then a game with Media on Friday, February 1, likewise in Ardmore. The Radnor game will be in the evening, and is slated to get going at 7.30.

Franklin Play Good

A short play depicting episodes in the life of Benjamin Franklin was given on his anniversary last Thursday, at assembly, by Miss Bischoff's class of girls. The actors were all in costume and the entire play was in pantomime. The skit made a big hit with the students and they are unanimous in declaring the play the best thing given in the auditorium yet this term.

A vote on the winning peace plan in the Bok peace contest was taken Tuesday in the school in order to find out how the school stood on the question. The lower three classes voted solidly for the plan, but in the Senior Class, for some unknown reason, there was much opposition to the prize plan. The vote showed 45 Seniors favoring the plan and 31 against it.

A program in explanation of the Bok peace plan was given in the auditorium last Friday. Talks were given by Dorothy Cross and by Walter Cooper. Followed Scull acted as chairman of the program.

Narberth Students in Skit

The Senior Dramatic Society gave a play at assembly Thursday. It was entitled the "Last Half Hour." Those taking part were Russell Byrnes, Thos. Manning, and Dorothy Sheneman. Gene Nugent, manager of the basketball team, coached the players. Much secrecy was observed about the play, and few students knew what it was about before it was given.

The Advertising Club has been busy this week posting posters dealing with the Bok peace plan and Thrift Week. Erskine Westervelt is President of the club and Miss Koehler is faculty advisor.
